GENERAL FACULTIES COUNCIL

The regular meeting of General Faculties Council was held on Monday, 20 December. The following items were among the topics discussed.

Committee to Investigate Undergraduate Writing Skills

The final section of the Report of the ad hoc GFC Committee to Investigate Undergraduate Writing Skills was discussed. This section concerned implementation of the Committee's report.

Professor Martin, the Chairman of the Committee, commented that Council had either approved or referred all of the recommendations in the report, but that the actual referral and action had been delayed pending the possible establishment of a standing committee of GFC. Council approved the following recommendation, D1 in the report, establishing this standing committee: Because of the serious and continuing nature of the writing problem within the University and the dependence of the value of academic work at the University on continuing policies and practices with respect to the level of undergraduate writing, the Committee recommends that General Faculties Council establish a standing committee to undertake a continuing review of the state of writing skills in the University and, further, to monitor the related matter of the reading competence of undergraduates, with, as its initial task, implementing such of the recommendations of this report as General Faculties Council may assign to it, including suitable communication to relevant agencies outside the University, as provided in Recommendation D2.

Council went on to approve recommendation D2, that a copy of the report be sent to the Minister of Education, the Minister of Advanced Education and Manpower, the Department of Education, the Department of Advanced Education and Manpower, the Board of Teacher Education and Certification, the Dean of the Faculty of Education at the University of Calgary and the Dean of the Faculty of Education at the University of Lethbridge, the Alberta School Trustees' Association, and the Alberta Teachers' Association. The committee's response to submissions made by faculties and schools to its report and its revised recommendation B1, on School Curriculum and Teaching Practice, will be appended to the report and an indication will be shown of Council's actions on each of the recommendations.

Professor Martin expressed the Committee's appreciation for GFC's serious consideration of the report. The report was written in December 1975 and first appeared before GFC Executive on 9 February 1976. Actual discussion of the report in Council carried over four months.

Disbandment of GFC Research Committee

Further to the proposal from R.J. Crawford, Chemistry, that the number of GFC committees be reduced by dissolution or amalgamation, Council agreed to disband the GFC Research Committee and transfer its responsibilities to the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research.

Required grades in prerequisite courses for Engineering students

In June 1976 GFC established the policy that a grade of 4 in a prerequisite course represent the minimum requirement for admission to a senior course. This policy was clarified in October 1976 to read, "For admission to a course with a prerequisite requirement a grade of at least 4 must be obtained in the prerequisite course."

The request of the Faculty of Engineering to deviate from this policy and, under certain guidelines, to permit a grade of 3 for its students was approved only for prerequisite courses offered within the Faculty of Engineering itself. It was not approved for prerequisite courses taken by Engineering students but offered by other faculties (e.g., Chemistry or English).

Search Procedures for Presidents and Vice-Presidents

President Gunning presented proposals approved by the Board of Governors (5 November) for Search Procedures for Presidents and Vice-Presidents, requesting Council's comments, which will be forwarded to the Board at its 7 January meeting.

The Board's proposals concerning search committees and appointment procedures for Presidents are as follows.

Composition of the Board of Governors

Search Committee for a President

Chairman of the Board of Governors as Chairman of the Committee

Two members of the Board of Governors

Two members of the faculty appointed by General Faculties Council

One member of the AASUA

Two members of the Students' Union appointed by Students' Council

One member of the Graduate Students' Association

One member of the Alumni Association

One member of the Senate

One member of the Non-Academic Staff Association

Procedure for Appointment of President

1. The Board will provide the Search Committee with guidelines and procedures.

2. The Board will provide the Chairman of the Board with salary and fringe benefit guidelines with respect to the appointment.

3. The Search Committee will recommend two or more nominees to the Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Board of Governors and the Chairman of the Finance Committee who will then determine, by confidential interview with the nominees, whether their salary and fringe benefit expectations fall within the Board guidelines; and also if the nominees are prepared to accept a performance evaluation during their term.

4. The Chairman of the Board of Governors will present two or more nominees to the Board of Governors with his recommendations thereon.

5. The Board may choose one nominee who will be appointed, or return the matter to the Search Committee.

GFC Executive recommended that the number of faculty on the Search Committee be increased to four, one representative from the AASUA and three to be appointed by General Faculties Council. The Executive Committee also seconded the recommendation of the Dean's Council that one Dean, chosen by the Deans' Council be added to the Search Committee.

Council amended the Executive Committee's recommendation so that of the four faculty members on the Search Committee, one would be appointed by the AASUA, one would be appointed by GFC, and two would be elected by the full-time academic staff at large, in the same way as faculty representatives on the Board of Governors are chosen. The amended recommendation was approved.

Regarding appointment procedures for Presidents, Council approved the two recommendations of the Executive Committee. The first amended 3 to read "... to accept a performance evaluation when seeking a renewal of their term," rather than "... a performance evaluation during their term." The second amended 4 to read "The Chairman of the Board of Governors will present the two or more nominees of the Search Committee to the Board of Governors with the recommendations, if any, of the Committee."

The Board's proposals concerning search committees and appointment procedures for Vice-Presidents is as follows.

Composition of the Board of Governors

Search Committee for a Vice-President

The President as Chairman of the Committee

Two members of the Board of Governors

Two members of the faculty appointed by General Faculties Council

One member of the AASUA

Two members of the Students' Union appointed by the Students' Council

One member of the Graduate Students' Association
One member of the Non-Academic Staff Association

Procedure for Appointment of a Vice-President

1. The Board will provide the Search Committee with guidelines and procedures.
2. The Board will provide the President with salary and fringe benefit guidelines with respect to the appointment.
3. The Search Committee will recommend two or more nominees to the President who will then determine, by confidential interview with the nominees, whether their salary and fringe benefit expectations fall within the Board guidelines; and also if the nominees are prepared to accept a performance evaluation during their term.
4. The President will present two or more nominees to the Board of Governors, with his recommendations thereon.
5. The Board may choose one nominee who will be appointed, or return the matter to the Search Committee.

Council approved the recommendation of its Executive Committee that the number of faculty appointed by GFC be increased to three and that one Dean, chosen by the Deans' Council, be added to the Search Committee.

Regarding appointment procedures, Council also approved the two recommendations of its Executive Committee. The first amended 3 to read "... to the President who, together with the two lay Board members, will then determine ... if the nominees are prepared to accept a performance evaluation when seeking a renewal of their term."

The second amended 4 to read "The President will present the two or more nominees of the Search Committee to the Board of Governors with the recommendations, if any, of the Committee.

In response to questions regarding the weight given to Board representation on the search committees and the change from a selection committee, as in previous procedures, to a search committee, President Gunning said that the Board wished to make the ultimate decision in these important appointments. Defining the difference between a search committee and a selection committee, he said that a selection committee chooses a unique candidate, while a search committee simply brings forward several names.

Review of University Professorship

Council approved the recommendation of the Executive Committee that GFC set up a small committee to examine the procedures used in the past for appointments to the University Professorship and to make recommendations with regard to procedures for the future.

The committee is being established in response to a request from the Board of Governors that Council review policies and procedures surrounding the appointments of University Professors since the establishment of these positions in 1967 and recommend to the Board whether this appointment should be continued in its present form.

TWO RHODES SCHOLARS

A Rhodes Scholarship is tenable at the University of Oxford. It may be held for a maximum of three years and the tenure of the Scholarship is dependent upon the maintenance of a high standard of work and conduct by the Scholar. The bases of the selection of Scholars are qualities of both intellect and character. Intellectual ability must be founded upon sound character; integrity of character must be founded upon sound intellect.

In Canada, three Scholarships are allotted to the western region of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Ken McFarlane and Eileen Gillese, both of the University, were successful candidates.

Ken McFarlane

Ken McFarlane, Students' Union Vice-President (Academic Affairs), will study either jurisprudence at Oxford or its Politics, Philosophy, and Economics program (PPE). While admitting the worth of this University's academic standing, Mr. McFarlane looks forward to the tutorial system of British universities and the chance to meet international colleagues on both educational and social levels.

When asked about the comment made in a letter to the Gateway that Rhodes Scholars were "doing the public relations of imperialism," McFarlane stressed that he did not apply for the scholarship on the basis of Cecil Rhodes's overt political and economic theories but rather on his philosophical outlook that is especially evidenced in Rhodes's will, which states, in part, that "no student shall be qualified or disqualified for election to a Scholarship because of race or religious opinions." Further, McFarlane appreciates the definition of the type of scholar that Rhodes was seeking; exhibition of moral force of character, and instincts to lead and take an interest in one's contemporaries were of prime importance in Rhodes's requisite specifications for winning a Rhodes Scholarship.

Upon returning to Canada, Ken McFarlane plans to take a qualifying year for his bar examination either at Dalhousie University or Osgood Hall in Toronto.

Eileen Gillese

This is the first year that Rhodes Scholarships have been available to women, and Eileen Gillese, the only woman in the Prairie Region in the finals, was one of four women in Canada to win. Ms. Gillese is in her fourth year of Business Administration and Commerce and is Students' Union Vice-President (Finance and Administration).

It is very rare indeed that a commerce student is selected for the Scholarship since there is no commerce degree at Oxford, but Ms. Gillese plans to take her degree in jurisprudence, which she feels will be an invaluable adjunct to further education in her field. Upon return from Oxford, she intends to take an MBA as well, to practice in business or law, and then to instruct in commerce at a Canadian university. Her interest in commerce stems from a natural aptitude for finance and the belief that economics permeates life. She feels that her training at this University will be very helpful at Oxford, a university noted for its broad training; in her program here she has had to learn to apply and integrate her knowledge of specifics, and in her position as financial Vice-President she has had plenty of practical experience. (It was she who conducted the financial arrangements for HUB earlier this year.)

Ms. Gillese is aware that she may be regarded as a representative of women, but she did not take the scholarship as one. She does hope that her success may encourage other women to try for the Scholarship; she cautions women, however, that they may have to work harder than men, simply because in such areas they are pioneers who must prove themselves. Indeed, she notes, it was not until she successfully completed the HUB arrangement that she was accepted as a capable financial administrator. Ms. Gillese intends to attend a women's college in Oxford, and would be grateful to hear from any woman who has done likewise.

Ms. Gillese seems an excellent choice for the Rhodes Scholarship: she has a lively intellect at its best when challenged, and she is committed to trying to improve commerce education in this country; "there are," she says, "so many things left undone."

JAMES McCUTCHEON 1920 to 1976

James McCutcheon, Dean of the Faculty of Dentistry, University of Alberta, died suddenly 20 December 1976.

Dr. McCutcheon was born in Elizabeth, New Jersey, USA, on 10 July 1920 and moved to Canada with his family while still young. He received his preliminary and high school education in Quebec, attending St. John High School and Stanstead Wesleyan College. He proceeded to McGill University where he graduated with a BA in 1942. He then entered upon his dental career at McGill University's Dental School from which he graduated in 1945 as a gold medalist.

He served as a resident dental intern at Montreal Children's Memorial Hospital after graduation. Upon being awarded a W.K. Kellogg Fellowship in 1947, Dr. McCutcheon continued his dental studies, attending the University of Michigan and pursuing specialist studies in prosthodontics. He graduated with a MSc in prosthodontics in 1948. While engaged in studies at Ann Arbor, he was appointed as an Assistant Clinical Instructor at the University of Michigan Dental School. While in the United States, Dr. McCutcheon served in the US Naval Reserve as a Lieutenant in the Dental Corps.

In 1948 Dr. McCutcheon was appointed Chairman of the Department of Prosthetic Dentistry, with an Associate Professor rank in the Faculty of Dentistry at McGill University, Montreal. In 1956 he was appointed as Dental Surgeon-in-Chief and Director of the Department of Dentistry at Montreal General Hospital. He was also a member of the Medical Board and Medical Advisory Committee of the Montreal General Hospital. He rose rapidly through the academic ranks at McGill University's Dental School, being appointed Acting Dean in 1955 and Dean of the Faculty of Dentistry in 1956. A full Professorship at McGill University was awarded to him in 1960.

Dr. McCutcheon served as Dean of Dentistry at McGill University for fourteen years until 1970, when he was appointed Dean of Dentistry at the University of Alberta. In 1973, he also assumed the duties of Acting Director of the School of Dental Hygiene. He also served as Director of the Department of Dentistry at the University of Alberta Hospital.

Dr. McCutcheon was extremely active in dental education organizations and affairs. He was a member of numerous professional societies, serving on several committees of the College of Dental Surgeons of the Province of Quebec, of the Canadian Dental Association, and of the Association of Canadian Faculties of Dentistry; in the latter organization he was elected, and served as, President in 1971-73. He continued his activities on its executive council until his death.

According to D.M. Collinson, Acting Dean of Dentistry, "Jim McCutcheon's sincere concern for his staff members, both academic and non-academic, and for the welfare and education of his students was always apparent. His tragic loss to the Faculty of Dentistry at this University and the loss to Canadian dental education will be sorely felt."

PETER F. WILCOCK 1935 to 1976

Peter F. Wilcock, Associate Professor in the Department of Pediatrics, died on 27 October after an illness. Besides being with the Department of Pediatrics, Dr. Wilcock was on the active staff of the Charles Camsell Hospital and was the Pediatrician to the Hobbema and Duffield Indian Reserves.

Born in England, Dr. Wilcock received his high school education in Sherbrooke, Quebec. After matriculation, he won the Sir Edward Beatty Scholarship to Bishops University; at that university, he took honors courses in biology and chemistry, graduating in 1955 with a BSc degree. He then entered McGill University in Montreal to study medicine. He graduated in 1959. In 1964 and 1965, Dr. Wilcock received his Certification in Pediatrics from Royal College and Fellowship in Royal College of Physicians of Canada, respectively.

Dr. Wilcock interned during 1959-60 at Hamilton General Hospital, and he became an Assistant Resident at Montreal General Hospital in 1960. Coming to the University of Alberta Hospital in 1961, he served as an Associate and a Senior Resident until 1963. During 1963-64, he was with the SHO Professorial Unit (R.S. Illingworth) at Sheffield Children's Hospital; during 1964-65, he worked in Pathology at the Toronto Sick Children's Hospital. In 1965, Dr. Wilcock took up practice in General Pediatrics here in Edmonton and was at the same time a Clinical Instructor in the University's Department of Pediatrics.

JOSEPH DVORKIN 1917 to 1976

Joseph Dvorkin, Clinical Professor of Medicine and one of the original members of the Division of Cardiology at the University Hospital, died suddenly 9 December in Calgary.

Dr. Dvorkin was born in Calgary where he attended school before coming to the University of Alberta. He graduated in Medicine in 1943. During the war, he served as a Major in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps.

He took post-graduate training in Internal Medicine at the Royal Alexandra and University Hospitals in Edmonton and at Mt. Sinai Hospital in New York. He obtained Certification as a Specialist in Internal Medicine and later restricted his practice to the specialty of Cardiology. Dr. Dvorkin became a Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians in Canada, the American College of Physicians, the American College of Cardiology, and the Council of Clinical Cardiology of the American Heart Association.

In 1953, Dr. Dvorkin was one of the two doctors to introduce heart catheterization to the University Hospital. This investigative procedure led, three years later, to the first open-heart surgery to be performed in Canada; the operation was performed at the University of Alberta Hospital by Dr. John C. Callaghan. Dr. Dvorkin remained one of the busiest cardiologists at the University Hospital and one of the most competent teachers who always found time for his students.

UNIVERSITIES FORM NEW NORTHERN RESEARCH AND TRAINING ASSOCIATION

During the past twenty-five years there has been a remarkable development of northern research and training programs in Canadian universities. This was formally recognized in Edmonton on Saturday, 11 December, when official representatives of twenty-four universities met to establish a new association of Canadian universities active in northern research. The delegates represented university institutes, centres, committees, and other units, all of them undertaking programs of field research and undergraduate or advanced degree training.

The Boreal Institute for Northern Studies was host to delegates from eight provinces, reaching from the University of British Columbia in the west to Memorial University, Newfoundland. No less than ten Ontario universities were represented. The meeting was the most recent in a series sponsored by the Federal Department of Indian and Northern Affairs.

R.M. Bone, Director of the Institute for Northern Studies of the University of Saskatchewan, who served as Chairman, was able to report at the end of two days of meetings that the new association was founded and that officers would be elected at a conference to be held in Churchill, Manitoba, in April, 1977. Meanwhile, several working committees were appointed.

The purposes of the new association include fostering university relations with native organizations and governments in northern Canada; gathering, preserving, and distributing to the universities information on research; the publication of journals and expansion of libraries; the shared use of research stations and other Arctic facilities; and cooperative planning of northern research among the universities. There will be exchanges of scholars and graduate students between the member universities and also with other Arctic countries. Canada's international obligation to share information, research facilities, experience, and skills with other polar countries will be aided by the new association. The association will also encourage courses on northern Canada in the universities and will aid members in improving advanced education in northern Canada. Governments, industry, and other users of research results should also benefit from the association as a centre of specialized knowledge and information on the North.

COOPERATION SOUGHT IN SURVEY OF SOCIAL SCIENTISTS

The Social Science Research Council of Canada (SSRCC) is in the process of establishing the Canadian Directory Service of Social Scientists. The computer-based Directory Service will be a diverse and flexible tool of communication within the social science community as well as between the social scientists and those who require their services.

In response to the SSRCC's appeal for cooperation, the Dean of the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research has named Baha Abu-Laban, Associate Dean of Arts (Social Sciences), as Director of the survey of social scientists at this University. The Research Grants Officer, Gordon Holmes, will also assist in conducting the survey.

A questionnaire provided by the SSRCC is being distributed to social scientists in specified fields (listed below) on this campus. In addition to those faculty members who will be covered by the survey through their academic departments, any interested person on campus with an MA degree in any of the listed fields is welcome to participate, regardless of his or her current position—graduate students, administrative and research staff, for example, would be welcome. The questionnaire will be distributed by department chairmen or their designees. Faculty members and other interested participants in the survey are requested to return their completed questionnaires to the designated person in their department or unit. That person will then return the completed questionnaires to Gordon Holmes, Research Grants Officer, Room 3-31, University Hall. The French version of the questionnaire is available on request from the Research Grants and Contracts Office.

A total of thirty-eight fields are listed by the SSRCC. These include: Anthropology; Archaeology; Area Studies, e.g., African, Latin American, Asian, etc.; Business Administration; Commerce; Communication; Community Studies; Criminology; Cultural Studies; Development, Economic, Social, Regional; Ecology; Economics; Education, Higher Education; Environmental Studies; Ethnic Studies; Geography; Health and Welfare Studies (Social Science Aspects); History; Housing; Industrial and Labour Relations; International Relations and Affairs; Law; Linguistics; Management Studies; Native Studies; Northern Studies; Policy Studies; Political Science; Population Studies; Psychology; Public Administration, Recreation and Kinetics; Religious Studies; Rural Development; Social Work; Sociology; and Urban Studies and Planning.

If your field is listed but the questionnaire has not reached you by mid-January 1977, please contact the Research Grants Office at 432-2002.

Persons eligible for coverage in this survey are urged to complete the questionnaire promptly and return them via the designated person (where appropriate) to the Research Grants and Contracts Office.
